

THE ERACISM

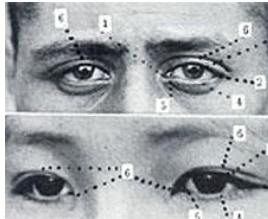

FILM & DISCUSSION SERIES

Designed to heighten awareness and create a better understanding of the issues facing people of color or of minority ethnic backgrounds

The Story We Tell

September 18

with Angie Paccione
Colorado State Representative
State House District 53

The Story We Tell – The Power of an Illusion, uncovers the roots of the race concept in North America, the 19th century science that legitimized it, and how it came to be held so fiercely in the western imagination. It is an eye-opening tale of how race served to rationalize, even justify, American social inequalities as "natural."

Who Killed Vincent Chin?

September 25

with Dr. Russell Endo
American Asian Studies Coordinator
University of Colorado

Who Killed Vincent Chin? is no murder mystery; this film's roots go much deeper as it chronicles the events surrounding the death of Vincent Chin, who was bludgeoned to death in the summer of 1982. The justice system eventually fined the perpetrators and put them on probation.

Long Night's Journey into Day

October 9

with Perrie McMillen
Director of Local Restorative Justice

For over forty years, South Africa was governed by the most notorious form of racial domination since Nazi Germany. When it collapsed, those who had enforced apartheid's rule wanted amnesty. Their victims wanted justice. As a compromise, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission was formed. The stories in the film underscore the universal themes of conflict, forgiveness, and renewal.

Not in our Town

October 16

with Blane Harding
Center for Applied Studies in American Ethnicity, CSU

Not in Our Town is an inspiring documentary film about the residents of Billings, Montana who responded to an upsurge in hate violence by standing together for a hate-free community.
