

THE ERACISM

FILM & DISCUSSION SERIES

Designed to heighten awareness and create a better understanding of the issues facing people of color or of minority ethnic backgrounds

Crash

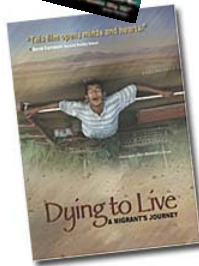

September 17
with Mark Benn
University Counseling
Colorado State University

Crash – a provocative look at the complexities of racial conflict in America that challenges audiences to question their own prejudices. This compelling urban drama tracks the volatile intersections of a multi-ethnic cast, examining fear and bigotry from multiple perspectives as characters careen in and out of one another's lives.

Dying to Live

September 24
with Norberto Valdez
Social Anthropology
Colorado State University

Dying to Live – a profound look at the human face of the migrant. It explores who these people are, why they leave their homes and what they face in their journey. It is a reflection on the human struggle for a more dignified life and the search to find God in the midst of it all.

Lost Boys of Sudan

October 1
with Wal Peter Biet
One of the Lost Boys

Lost Boys of Sudan – an astonishing tale of two young men out of the thousands of young Dinka boys and girls who were orphaned and made refugees by Sudan's brutal 20-year civil war. The distances traveled by the "lost boys" encompass a world of rapid movement and jarring contrasts, and reveal both great social divisions and remarkable human links in the 21st century global village.

O.T.: Our Town

October 8
with Earlie Thomas
Environmental Health Services, CSU,
and Local Actor

O.T.: Our Town – Dominguez High School – with an explosive culture of black and Hispanic youths and dismal outlook of school life – had not produced a play in 20 years. This documentary chronicles the month and a half before the opening night performance of their version of Thornton Wilder's classic play.
